Key Digital Embraces Innovation at NSCA Pivot to Profit 2019

MOUNT VERNON, NY – September 17, 2019 – Key Digital, the leaders in digital video and control systems is excited to announce their participation at the upcoming National Systems Contractors Association Pivot to Profit event September 24-25 in Irving, Texas.

Key Digital's reputation for industry-leading innovation extends beyond their first-rate hardware and software ecosystem and expands into the ecology of offering services and solutions that are constantly evolving with progress and versatility.

As early adaptors to network-based systems with the mature Compass Control Pro and widespread AV over IP offerings, Key Digital is sure to impress the exclusive gathering of systems contractors at Pivot to Profit. Attendees can expect to learn about Key Digital products and practices and how the company develops its valuable methods to provide practical and effective hardware, software, and services.

"We look forward to demonstrating how our innovative products can help the AV integrators at Pivot to Profit leverage their systems and services to put them a step above the competition," said Dewayne Rains, Regional Sales Manager for Key Digital.

By attending shows such as Pivot to Profit, Key Digital keeps their finger on the pulse of collaboration and innovation. The presentations and interactions over the course of the two-day event will bolster the company's insight and resources on how best to grow as a company for the benefit of its integrators and distributors, and the attending systems contractors will likewise gain knowledge and resources from their time spent with Key Digital. Key Digital plans to create and strengthen many relationships with new and existing contacts in the intimate one-on-one event setting. The company looks forward to showcasing their product line and impressive service offerings in this privileged environment.
